OBSERVE
the
INTERNATIONAL DAY OF SOLIDARITY with
SOUTH AFRICAN POLITICAL PRISONERS

FILM:

GENERATIONS OF RESISTANCE

DISCUSSION:

- Support to Nelson Mandela and all political prisoners
- Nature and impact of the revolutionary process in South Africa
- Repressive "state of emergency" and Botha's sham "reforms"
- U.S. policy objectives in South Africa
- South Africa's occupation of Namibia and Angola
- Contradictions within the anti-apartheid movement in the U.S.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1985

7PM

The United Nations General Assembly has declared October 11 as the Day of Solidarity with South African Political Prisoners. This important action was taken in 1976 not long after the apartheid regime's massacre of protesting students at Soweto, and its establishment of the first bogus "independent Black republic" known as Transkei. Needless to say, both of these criminal acts drew unprecedented condemnation from the international community.

At this juncture, Pretoria's fascists are determined soon to hang Benjamin Moloise (an innocent ANC sympathizer), and a seriously ill Nelson Mandela continues to languish in prison.

The internment of children, torture, death during detention, and executions must be brought to an end, and there must be AMNESTY FOR ALL SOUTH AFRICAN AND NAMIBIAN POLITICAL PRISONERS.

UNITY IN ACTION

Information/Donations: P.O. Box 77515, L.A. 90007; 291-8459