We, the undersigned, are writing to express our grave concern about the growing trend in the anti-apartheid solidarity movement to deny public forums to exiled Black South Africans sympathetic to the philosophy of Black Consciousness or the Pan Africanist Congress of Azania. We are also expressing a similar concern about attempts to deny humanitarian assistance to South African refugees and political prisoners for the same reason.

These Black South Africans represent a legitimate and popular trend in our just struggle against apartheid. Denying them equal access to public forums on South Africa or humanitarian assistance does not serve the best interests of our struggle. We are therefore calling upon the anti-apartheid solidarity movement to give our struggle moral, humanitarian and political assistance in a non-sectarian and principled manner.
