CCLAMG PRINCIPLES OF SUPPORT

Based on our political analysis we—the members of CCLAMG—support the liberation movements in Southern Africa which meet the following criteria:

Movements which are

- anti-imperialist, anti-racist and international in perspective and which regard their struggle as part of a world-wide struggle against imperialism;

- fighting inside their countries with the support of the majority of the people;

- committed to armed struggle as a necessary stage in the process of national liberation from colonial and imperialist domination;

- actively working to build a new society for their people based on national institutions which benefit all the people and are based on an equal distribution of resources;

- committed to preventing neo-colonial domination after independence.

We specifically support the PAIGC in Guinea Bissau, FRELIMO in Mozambique, and MPLA in Angola because they are conducting and leading the struggle in their respective countries on the basis of the principles cited above.

This statement was adopted by CCLAMG as part of its principles of membership in the summer of 1973.