Harvard-Radcliffe Alumni/ae Against Apartheid - A Movement for Diversity and Social Responsibility is an anti-racist organization of Harvard and Radcliffe alumni/ae. Its immediate goal is the rapid and complete divestment from the University's portfolio of investments in South-Africa-based companies. To accomplish this end, its primary strategy is outreach campaigns among alumni/ae to elect Overseers who will work aggressively for this step. HRAAA also is concerned with other aspects of institutionalized racism and diversity at Harvard and with issues of social responsibility in the University's internal life and its relationship to the outside world.
