Dear friends:

Perhaps you have seen the film "A Luta Continua" (The Struggle Continues) -- the exciting portrait of Frelimo's struggle to free Mozambique from Portuguese colonialism. Robert Van Lierop has just completed a sequel about the new struggle for national reconstruction and a better life in the People's Republic of Mozambique. The name of the film is "O Povo Organizado" (The People Organized).

ACOA and the Africa Fund have assisted and encouraged both films because of their critical value for interpreting Frelimo's struggle to the American people. And the Africa Fund aids the health project in Mozambique that proceeds from the new film will benefit.

We hope that you will attend a premiere showing of the new film -- or organize one in your area if there is not one yet! Enclosed is a leaflet describing the premiere to be held in New York on September 25. Other showings are set to happen in Chicago October 4, Detroit the third week in October and Washington, D.C. November 15. For more information contact CAHD listed on the leaflet.

Contributions to order tickets for the N.Y. premiere, or if you cannot attend, to demonstrate your support for health care in Mozambique, may be made via the enclosed envelope to the Africa Fund.

A Luta Continue!

Sincerely,

George M. Houser & Paul Irish

P.S. We also enclose for your information the latest Africa Fund study on "The Soviets in Africa".
