SOUTH AFRICAN AUTHOR TO SPEAK ON "TIMETABLE FOR FREEDOM"

Peter Abrahams, South African author well known for his books, Tell Freedom and Mine Boy, will speak at a meeting on Tuesday, November 22nd, 8:30 p.m., at The Community Church of New York, 40 East 35th Street. "Timetable for Freedom in South Africa" will be his topic.

The welcoming address will be delivered by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., who, at the same time, will announce officially the sending of the first $1,000 raised by the Project Fund of the American Committee on Africa for education in South Africa.

The money will be directed to the Reverend Trevor Huddleston of the Anglican Church in South Africa for use by St. Peter's Mission School in Johannesburg. The school is one of the few remaining open despite the Bantu Education Act, which permits withdrawal of government financial support from all non-government schools which do not support the official apartheid (racial segregation) policies.

The meeting will be sponsored by the American Committee on Africa and chaired by the Reverend Donald Harrington of Community Church.
